

Stanley P. DeAngelis, AIA, NCARB

Licensed Architect/President/Senior Project Manager

Mr. DeAngelis has over Twenty-five years experience as part of executive management teams; twenty years leading those teams as Managing Principal. Over 30 years experience as a project architect / project manager. He is the founder of DeAngelis Business Development, Inc. (DBD) and also serves as senior project manager. His mission is to help building companies grow inside and out and to help building owners navigate the complexities of the design and construction process. Prior to founding DBD he was founder and president of Workplace Dynamics, Inc. a company that is focused on developing the special talents of people in the workplace; dedicated to creating workplace environments, both physically and culturally, that fully engage employees and connect them to their work.

Prior to founding WorkPlace Dynamics, Mr. DeAngelis founded and was managing principal of Vision III Architects where he was in charge of the firm's office & financial management, vision, leadership & creativity development, community involvement, and marketing and sales. "I was the firm's "cheerleader", motivating my staff to world-class performance levels. I also took an active project role on the more demanding projects. I am especially versed in medical, office, and hospitality design, prototype design & placement, renovations of all types, programming, and facilities mapping." Mr. DeAngelis led Vision III Architects to becoming the second largest Architectural firm in RI with a staff of 30 and over $3.8 million in annual billings in 1997. Mr. DeAngelis sold Vision III after ten years at the helm to his partners in 1998 in order to start WorkPlace Dynamics.
